

TRANSITION FOR ALL

Week 10

Transition support

With no newsletter last week I have been overwhelmed with how much amazing work I have still been sent. Thank you again, I know the secondary schools really love to see how amazing you all are. This weeks 'shout outs' go to Madison from Wednesbury Oak and Joshua from St Margaret's primary schools. I am always happy to receive work from any of the transition tasks, I really enjoy reading them all and sending them on! Keep the quiz questions coming!

This weeks task:

Imagine there was a film or a book written about your life!

Can you design the poster or book cover that could be created to make people interested in your story?

Can you write a synopsis to go along with the story? The beauty of 'artistic license' is that not everything has to be true! You can add a few 'extras' if you like and of course you don't have to put everything in your synopsis! Just enough to make people want to read the book or watch the film!

I am looking forward to seeing what you create just email me at liz_stevenson@sandwell.gov.uk and tell me your current school, year group and future school.

Secondary school changes

When you move to secondary school there are lots of things that are going to change. Many of these things you and your family can start to prepare for. If you saw the video I shared you will know that one major change is that you are going to need to be responsible for your own timekeeping. Bells (if your school use them) will probably tell you that you need to be in class but you will have to know how long it will take you to get from where you are, to where you need to be! It might be that you will need to start heading back to class at least 5 minutes before the bell goes if you are going to be there and be ready on time!

Top Tip

Ask an adult in your house what time your next meal will be. Try to make sure you are in the kitchen, at the table, in the living/dining room (wherever you need to be to eat) just before the food is ready. Can you be there on time without being reminded? Let me know how you get on!
